This very interesting Colombard were nearly six months in 3rd filled small barrels. The idea to ferment Colombard in a small barrel came from the owner Ernst Bruwer. The specific vineyard is right next to the cellar and was planted in the early 1970's. From there the name "Keller" Colombard. This product developed in a tropical fruit driven wine with a hint of vanilla and pineapple characters and a slight wooded aroma. The acidity in the wine ensures a good balance with a beautiful and long-lasting pallet. This wine can age for another few years. Only 3 Barrels of this excellent wine is available.
